By Paolo G. Manalo

PHILIPPINE AIRLINES (PAL) has moved to avert the further resignation of pilots with a pledge that some of its remaining pilots would be moved to PAL-operated Air Philippines, a budget airline.

The resignation of two dozen pilots has led to the cancellation of a number of PAL flights.

The Department of Transportation and Communications (DOTC) on Thursday said PAL had submitted a list of commitments aimed at preventing pilot

Done deal? All or nothing

Unions deny compromise: We want all 4,915 hectares

By Teodoro Ordoñez, Philippine General Journalist and Kristine L. Alave and Michael Lim Urban in Manila

IT'S ALL or nothing.

Labor union officials claiming to represent farmers in Hacienda Luisita yesterday rejected any arrangement that would give them only a third of the sugar plantation owned by the family of President Aquino.

"We want all the 4,915 hectares that the [Department of Agrarian Reform] ordered to be covered by the [Compulsory Agrarian Reform Program] in 2006," said Luis Rala, acting president of United Luisita Workers Union (ULWU).

Rala was reacting to an Inquirer report that Hacienda Luisita Inc. (HLI) had worked out a settlement with representatives of four unions in the plantation under which workers would be given a choice of retaining shares under the stock distribution option (SDO) or a parcel of the 1,400 hectares of land that would be per capita for distribution.

P-Noy aware of Luisita talks but has yet to see settlement

MALACANANG said yesterday President Aquino was aware of negotiations between farmers seeking the distribution to them of his family's Hacienda Luisita and counties wanting the sugar plantation sold and reformed since that a settlement had been reached.

However, presidential spokesperson Edwin Lacerda said in a news briefing that Mr. Aquino was not directly involved in the talks. He said that the President's "only input" was to tell his counties he wanted the problem resolved.

"I've seen resolve this amicably, but it's all for us," Lacerda quoted the President.

MEMBERS of the Presidential Management Unit, or the CMA, have begun projects of the Department of Agriculture during the presidency of Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo.

"There won't be any government program that will bear President Aquino's name or initials during his disposition, his spokesperson Edwin Lacerda said yesterday.

Lacerda made the statement when asked to comment on a bill sponsored by Sen. Francis Tangkay in the Senate seeking to make the practice of politics appending their names to top paper-funded projects a crime.

"President Aquino totally agrees with that. He doesn't want any project named after him," Lacerda said, "I encourage all public officials not to take their names on projects paid for by taxpayers."

2 charged with rice smuggling

By Philip Dizon

TWO CUSTOMS officers yesterday filed smuggling charges against a customs broker and the officer of two Manila-based companies for allegedly introducing a white rice shipment as rising beans, defrauding the government of more than P10 million in duties and taxes.

According to Customs Commissioner Lito Abano, "there was no intent to believe that the intended smuggling involved" of Plaza Rica-

Abano said the case involved with the latest department continuing criminal investigation (CCI) in the Philippines, which led to a 24-hour operation in a department that started on June 17 and was released the following day without paying any duties.

The imported white rice, which came from Vietnam in Thailand, passed through within the Port of Manila or the Manila International Container Terminal.

Police's role

Abano said a confidential informant had tipped the authorities that when Bernal had obtained a rising bean in the customs import unit and issued income declaration was described in white rice in the bill of lading and vessel's cargo manifest submitted by the shipping company.

According to Abano, the importation of white rice requires government documents, including an import permit from the General Food Administration. White rice is also subject to a 50 percent duty and payment of 10 percent VAT.

Along with, meanwhile, it was used in both customs and the ASU, which is the main force in the Philippines.

He said the bid price was higher than the prevailing rate but more because the cost of P10 million, including those included in the procurement, had already dropped.

Dough cutter etc.
A P20-million deal for kitchen tools also caught Villanueva's eye. He said the amount, which covered the procurement of dough cutters, among others, appeared to be a case of price padding. The dough cutters, for one, were procured at a unit price of P24,000, or about 220 pesos the prevailing price of P220.

The questionable procurement was already analyzed at a report from the commission on Audit but was still a go before he made his sale of office.

He said a check with Tondo's regional training center also showed that some of the items procured by the project were never delivered, and that the others were either of poor quality or below specification.

"We were discussing that we had P20 million in pocket but I said that we should spend it and stop paying for it, that was not a bad idea at all," he said.

P10 scholarship owed
Some P1 billion worth of scholarships that Tondo owes its training center and partner schools are now the subject of an inquiry.

"While I recognize the need of some schools for scholarships, this amount was not appropriated in the budget," Villanueva said.

He said he had ordered the legal department to look into the school contracts and the two-year-old deals some about, particularly the building project that amounted to P12 billion procurement.

It proved a report of these and other Villanueva plans to open Tondo's bidding procedure to the public by broadcasting the bid through live streaming website.

USTH Acquires Three of the Best Technology for Neurodiagnostics

University of Iowa James Hospital (UIJH) has acquired another important advancement in healthcare technology for patients requiring neurophysiology examinations. The MonitorOne 32 Channel +EEG with Sleep Module, MonitorOne Yoking Queue, and RobinNet Module, manufactured by Cambridge and exclusively distributed by ED Medical, Inc.

Hi-Gra +EDG Neurophysiograph (EDG) records the electrical activity of the brain. It assists the physician in the diagnosis of the variety of neurological problems from headache and dizziness to epileptic seizure disorders, stroke and degenerative brain diseases. It can also be used to look for organic causes of psychiatric symptoms, dizziness in children and to determine irreversible brain death.

Polysomnography and Resonance Recordings can also be done using Victor's VMS. Polysomnography is a test in the diagnosis of several sleep disorders while Resonance Recordings is used to determine several internal conditions, mostly to determine the presence of internal disease.

Vitality Down: electromyogram (EMG) measures the electrical activity of muscles at rest and during contraction. It helps to find the cause of weakness, paralysis, or muscle twitching and diagnoses that damage muscle tissue or nerve.

Another diagnostic capabilities of Viking Quest are the Drooped Postural (DP) and Nerve Conduction Study (NCS). DP is used to detect the cause of problems in muscle control and strength, vision, balance, sensation, and mental functions, while NCS used mainly for evaluation of peripheral neuropathies (numbness, tingling, burning) and/or weakness of the arms and legs.

Bowaca/tek is a non-invasive, painless and safe diagnostic and monitoring system which is used to measure cerebral blood flow velocity using the principle of Doppler ultrasound for patients at risk of stroke.

INTL's integration of these three top-of-the-line equipment with automatic diagnostic applications and various product configurations paves the way for a more quality healthcare service.

PAL submits must-do list so pilots don't quit

from leaving the company.

Transportation Undersecretary Dante Wilson said PALA promises not to transfer pilots to the Philippines "in a very delicate and sensitive manner."

Other commitments by PALA include publishing new flight schedule to ensure that affected passengers are informed about changes in their bookings.

The company also pledged to keep an open line of communication with its pilots, who, unlike other PAL employees, are not represented by a union.

PALA have proposed assistance to address the pilot shortage, which will be presented to the President, was a result of a series of meetings with DRR officials.

Source of resentment

For Wilson, admitted that PALA move to transfer pilots to the Philippines has been the biggest source of resentment among the citizens.

This led to the resignation of several of its pilots, who were leaving on Wednesday. The pilots have left the country to take higher-paying jobs abroad. This resulted in the lack of pilots to run the company's fleet of Airbus A350-900 (X) is already.

Wilson said PALA management implemented a cost-cutting program earlier this year that involved the transfer of several senior and junior pilots to the Philippines, which is being proposed to go head-to-head against Cebu Pacific.

Lower salaries

The pilots were given lower salaries, with the company claiming that these were "lower compensation terms."

PALA was forced to implement several cost-cutting measures after suffering close to $300 million in losses in the first nine months of 2008.

"We did not expect that there would be a number of passengers who have left the job," Wilson said.

Business model

"This, PAL adopted a business model of high volume, low margins as opposed to its current high-margin and low-volume business model," he said.

Wilson said the pilots' situation is the result of the need to keep an open communication line with its pilots and other employees. Aside from its problems with pilots, PAL is dealing with disputes with flight attendants and ground employees.

Flight attendants have threatened work stoppage in protest of PALA policy of having the cabin crew to retire at the age of 40, when all other PAL workers are allowed to work until the age of 60.

Ground employees are protesting PALA plan to cut another 2,000 jobs, mostly as part of cost-cutting efforts.

"What I see here is we have on the one hand the way-offer to leave money can be used, but we expect (PAL) to follow the model of Airlander and to be more open-minded," Wilson said.

PALA officials could not be reached for comment as of Thursday morning.

Following PALA moves, Wilson said the government would take a "wait-and-see" approach on the issue. "We will wait to see what the government will do with the pilots to see if they belong to our corporate family," he said.

FDA ADVISORY
No. 2010-008

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) strongly objects to and refutes the sweeping statements, insinuations, innuendos, and false conclusions made in the full-page Paid Advertisement entitled "FOOD OR POISON?" published in the Philippine Star (page 17, August 4, 2010 issue) and in the Philippine Daily Inquirer (page A15, August 5, 2010 issue).

Clearly, the FDA is not and should not be dragged into and be involved in the looming battle between and among businesses producing, importing, distributing, and supplying wheat flour in the country. As the primary government agency tasked with, among others, determining and regulating the safety and quality of food, the FDA fervently performs its duty without taking any side and without favoring anyone.

As a matter of fact, when its attention was called as regards the unconfirmed reports that wheat flour from Turkey was suspected of being contaminated with mycotoxin, the FDA, to avoid accusations of being biased for or against Turkish wheat flour, had intensively and consistently conducted monitoring, surveillance, sample collection, and testing of ALL imported and locally milled wheat flour. Verily, the FDA testing results, utilizing the same ELISA testing method used by the Istanbul University, would categorically demonstrate and confirm that NONE of the one hundred eighteen (118) samples collected from March 2010 to July 2010 have concentrations of Ochratoxins A and Aflatoxin (mycotoxins) that have exceeded the allowable limit. Many of the samples, in fact, revealed that Ochratoxins A and Aflatoxin were not even detected, again utilizing the same ELISA testing method used by the Istanbul University. The list of wheat flour collected from March 2010 to July 2010 and their respective producers, importers, distributors, or suppliers is attached hereto as Annex "A".

Accordingly, the FDA confirms the issuance of DOH-FDA Advisory Number 2010-004 dated April 14, 2010 and maintains its position that the samples of Turkish wheat flour collected from the various markets were tested to be "safe and fit for consumption".

Meanwhile, the Paid Advertisement's inference and use of the study of the Istanbul University (which was published in the Journal of Food and Drug Analysis) that the Turkish flour being imported into the Philippines is contaminated with cancer-causing mycotoxin is ERRONEOUS and BASELESS. The Faculty of Veterinary, Department of Food Hygiene and Technology, Istanbul University, and authors Ali Aydin, Ugur Gunen and Salih Demirel, in their study entitled "Total Aflatoxin, Aflatoxin B1 and Ochratoxin A levels in Turkish Wheat Flour" published in the Journal of Food and Drug Analysis (pp. 48-53, Vol. 16, No. 2, 2008), said that these were "not in accordance with our [author's] findings".

Moreover, the FDA strongly denies the Paid Advertisement's insinuations and innuendos as regards the Turkish Embassy having been provided with advanced copy of the wheat flour test results. Obviously, the test results were only given to the Turkish Embassy at the time when they had become official and anybody who would have wanted a copy thereof from the FDA would also have been given the test results had they simply asked for the same.

Finally, the FDA takes this opportunity to assure the public that it is committed in its mandate of continuously ensuring the availability and supply of safe food products in the country. Nevertheless, in the event that there are indeed violations of the country's food safety laws, rules and regulations, among others, the FDA will not hesitate in running after, prosecuting, and punishing such offenders and violators to the full extent of the law.

Respectfully,
NAZARITA T. TACANONG, RPH, MPA
Acting Director IV

thoroughfares, we must be very strict in the enforcement of our traffic rules and regulations.

There will be no exceptions, there will be no special treatment. Everyone must obey the law," MMDA Chair Francis Y.
Linares said yesterday.

Earlier, PRRB, MMDA
Traffic and Transport Management Office (TMMO), said 117 colorum and non-of-line buses, taxi cabs and AUVs were apprehended on Tuesday followed by 75 more the following day.

Their drivers were issued traffic violation receipts while the vehicles were immediately brought to the agency's impound area in Divisoria City.

The MMDA said there would be no leniency in its drive against colorum vehicles even though it suspended its operations year-long because of impending severe rain already fall.

It added that it was considering using the various agents under the PRRB to help.

Previous offenders caught driving a colorum vehicle face a fine of P10,000 and a daily sus-tain fee of P1,500 on top of the three-month suspension of their driver's license.

For second-time offenders, the fine goes up to P12,000 and the daily sustain fee to P2,000. In addition to the three-month suspension of their license.

On the third offense, they will be fined P10,000, a daily sustain fee of P2,500 and have their licence revoked for one year.

Television, newspapers, radio the public to cooperate with the MMDA's renewed crackdown.

"I apologize to the passengers for the inconvenience we may cause them, especially when we flag down the PUVs they are riding in. This is necessary if we don't get rid of these colorum public utility vehicles, our highways to tomorrow's major roads will be choked congested," he said.

QC court junks tax evasion raps vs John Lloyd

By John M. Alvarez

A QCET law justed the tax evasion case filed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) against former Justice
Chief Justice vs John Lloyd Alvarez for lack of probable cause.

Charges of violating the 1997 Tax Reform Act were filed against CJA, a former of television network ABS-

CBN, over his alleged failure to accuse to the BIR his income books and other financial records for 2004.

In a recent decision, Judge Alfredo
Alvarez of the Quezon City Municipal Trial Court Branch 33 dismissed the case against the actor, saying the "BIR failed to observe its own rule in serving the subpoenas to the actor."

He noted that there was no evidence that Revenue Officer Margarita Barta was able to serve the subpoenas to CJA's lawyers, Manfred, adding that Barta failed to make a written report on how, where and when the exact documents were served and who received it, including other details.

Obama: 'Long battle' in Gulf nears end

NEW ORLEANS—A crush of steel finally plugged the blown-out well in the Gulf of Mexico, three months after the offshore drilling rig exploded, that unleashed a gusher of oil and a summer of misery along the Gulf Coast.

"The government stopped just short of proceeding the well down, containing the seepage and mud must still be pumped in from the bottom even if it's good."

The long battle to stop the leak of crude oil is finally close-ed and sunk in April, leaking millions of barrels of oil into the ocean for nearly three months in the world's worst accidental marine spill.

"In other words of being with last because, leaked down-wards and dying within, some Gulf Coast residents weren't aware," said, it appeared that might finally be at an end in light of the disaster that closed out stretches of fishing areas, interrupted the usually lucrative tourist season, and cost BP's

CEO his job and the company's shareholders billions of dollars. BP paid 2,000 barrels of steel down the well overnight—an operation called a "junk ball"—but pushed the crude back down to its source for the first time since the Deepwater Horizon rig exploded off Louisiana in April 20. The operation killed 11 workers and began the spill that cost six billion dollars in lost business and cost BP's

Later Wednesday night, National Incident Commander Thad Allen said he approved BP's plan to begin injecting more down the well, so long as it didn't delay work on the steel well. BP officials said they planned to begin pumping in steel on Thursday.

But there was more serious, if good news. A National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration report released on Wednesday claimed that only about 30 percent of the spilled oil remains in the Gulf and is degrading quickly. The rest has been contained or cleaned up or otherwise disappeared, and the report also said the oil no longer poses a threat to the Florida Keys or the Gulf Coast.

The same independent report said they were concerned that the government's method of estimating the amount was too simple to reach a complete spill, and even government scientists cautioned the estimates do not mean the Gulf is out of harm's way.

SMART Gold Mix captivates Alabang crowd

New Xperia X10 up for grabs at Plan P2500—with free one-month Unli surfing!

Visit Rockwell this weekend for last chance of this great promo offer!

SMART Gold Mix draws the crowd in Alabang.

Excited guests examine the features of X10.

On promo Plan 2500, users get their X10 free and unlimited web surfing anywhere for a month.

PEOPLE DOWN SOUTH GOT THE TREAT OF THEIR LIVES as telecommunications giant SMART Communications kicked off the SMART Gold Mix event last weekend at the Alabang Town Center.

SMART Gold Mix was the launch pad of today's most exciting phone, the Sony Ericsson Xperia X10. It regularly comes for free at Plan 2500, but was up for grabs and bundled with one month of free unlimited surfing at Plan 2500 during the SMART Gold Mix promo period.

Guests were encouraged to experience the X10 for themselves. They saw how the phone's generous four-inch capacitive touchscreen allows one to tap effortlessly across the crisp Android-based interface, breaking the barrier between high technology and human interaction.

The Sony Ericsson Xperia X10 phone has features that place your life right at your fingertips. It comes equipped with Sony Ericsson's innovative Timescape and Mediascape. Timescape is the handset's social networking software around instead of merely serving as yet another paradigm of hand-held devices. It gathers all the updates from all your social networking accounts and puts them straight into your Timescape page. Now you can keep tabs on everyone you know without having to go to a different list of social networking sites, Mediascape, on the other hand, is the X10's intuitive media manager designed to let you conveniently browse through all your music, photos, and videos anytime you want.

SMART Gold Mix exclusive partnership with Sony Ericsson brings you all the excitement that the X10 has to offer. With SMART's UnliSurf service, you get unlimited access to Timescape and Internet browsing. These perks and more come ready to use with the whole range of SMART Gold Mix subscription plans.

Chare Maguila, an Android developer, said the X10 opens up to users a world of more than 60,000 appli-

Super-high-tech Black Box, Sony Ericsson, and Sony X10 are on display at the event in Alabang.

Smart Mix always with the Sony Ericsson Xperia X10. SMART's Plan 2500 and 1000 come with 100MB free and 100MB free.

Chare Maguila explains how the X10 opens up a world of more than 60,000 applications that run on Android.

Hosting the two-day SMART Gold Mix were Slick Rock, Tony Tan, and Sam F. G. of Boys Night Out, and Party Launch. Up-and-coming acoustic duo Jimmy and Kaitlyn will be live with their renditions of crowd favorites, drawing guests who browsed through the attractive event displays.

Karen Macalino of SMART's Wireless Consumer Division explained how the X10 and its features perfectly into any lifestyle.

Celtics get 15-time All-Star Shaquille

SHAQUILLE O'NEAL: There more years

BOSTON—The Boston Celtics signed Shaquille O'Neal on Wednesday, adding the 33-year All-Star center to a team needing size and speed behind Paul Pierce recovering from knee surgery after contesting his sixth NBA title.

The 7-foot-1, 325-pound O'Neal signed a two-year contract to the league's highest salary in coming to the Boston Garden after championships, helping to add to the team's NBA title.

O'Neal signed a two-year contract worth about $3 million, a price with knowledge of the Celtics' need for a center and the Celtics' need for a center.

One of the NBA's most dominant players will finish with a legendary franchise on the paragon of his career, 17 championships, and the second member of the franchise, Larry Bird, who played for the Celtics from 1978 to 1992.

After receiving the Celtics' offer, O'Neal will play with Paul Pierce, Kevin Garnett, and Ray Allen, Boston's "Big Three" stars.

The first pick in the 1992 draft out of Louisiana State, O'Neal is the NBA's leading scorer with 28,220 points and 14,615 rebounds with 12,951 in longer history. He averaged 24.1 points, 11.6 rebounds and 3.3 blocks and won the NBA MVP in 2000.

O'Neal, 36, won Finals, 31, Games, 31, and All-Star, 21. He also signed with the Boston Celtics, 31, and won the Finals, 31, and Games, 31, and All-Star, 21.

A-Rod hits 600th homer, at last

NEW YORK—Alex Rodriguez became the youngest player in American baseball to hit 600 home runs Wednesday, reaching the milestone in the first inning against Texas in a Wednesday matchup.

The 35-year-old slugger hit his 17th home run in the second, driving a pinch hit, Texas' Shane Bieber over the fence and giving the Yankees a 2-0 lead. A double run-in followed the lead for him.

Rodriguez joined his late 600-homer club after breaking Barry Bonds' (762), Hank Aaron' (755), Babe Ruth' (714), Willie Mays' (660), Stan Musial' (659) and Sammy Sosa' (609).

He finally got the 600 after going 12 games without a homer.

Rodriguez scored his 10th home run, putting his home run total at 600, reaching the mark in 1931 at 36 years, 266 days. Ruth did it in fewer games, though—1,044 to 2,237 for Rodriguez.

July inflation below forecast, steady at 3.9%

By Ronald M. Domingo

7-month average rate still within target for the year

THE INFLATION rate in July remained at 3.9 percent, year-on-year, the same as the rate in June and lower than the market's estimate of 4.1 percent, annual down-or increase in food prices and utilities costs, the National Statistics Office said yesterday.

This also kept the average inflation rate from January to July at 4.2 percent, which is still within the monetary authority's target range for this year of 3.5 percent to 5.5 percent.

The rates in June and July are the lowest since November 2009.

Still, the rate of increase in consumer prices in July this year was much lower than the 6.2 percent recorded in the same month in 2010.

Last month, the rate of increase in the prices of food, light and non-fuel (FNF) was recorded at 5.4 percent, down from 6.4 percent in June.

The spike in the cost of consumer items also slowed down, settling at 1.2 percent from 1.3 percent.

However, the rate of increase in the prices of clothing was recorded at 1.8 percent, the same as in June.

The remaining three sub-groups showed faster growth, with all showing a 1.7 percentage point increase over June data levels.

Prices of heavily-weighted food, beverage and tobacco (FBT) sub-group went up by 3.3 percent, while those for housing and utilities (3.8%) and services (3.9%) rose by 1.7 percent and 4 percent, respectively.

Statistics released by Philippine Governor Amador M. Tinangco Jr. said the steady inflation in July continued to support monetary authorities' outlook pointing to a full year inflation rate that will be within the government's target.

Investments registered with Peza up 58%

By Abigail L. Ho

INVESTMENTS REGISTERED with the Philippine Economic Zone Authority (PEZA) rose 58 percent in the first seven months of 2014 to P46.5 billion, from P29.4 billion in the same period last year.

In a report to Trade Secretary Gregory Domingo, PEZA director general Lilia de Lima said that of the total, P51.5 billion came from foreign investors, while P11.2 billion came from domestic investors.

In the same period last year, investors accounted for P36.2 billion in investments, while domestic contributed almost P15.4 billion.

The number of projects registered from January to July this year also increased slightly to 290 from 280 in the previous year, an increase of about three percent.

Of this number, 246 projects were completed by Peza investors and 44 projects by domestic investors, while last year's 246 projects by foreigners and 42 projects by domestic investors.

De Lima said these investment commitments were projected to generate more than P4.4 billion in exports, a 1.84 percentage point increase from the P3.6 billion posted in the same period last year.

Projected employment was likewise higher by 20.8 percent to 15,223 jobs, from the prior

Moody's sees RP gains from regional growth

By Michelle V. Riano

MOODY'S INVESTORS SERVICE said the outlook for the corporate sector in Asia-Pacific remains positive, including the Philippines, to "stable" on average, adding that many small firms in the region may continue limited performance in the short term.

The stable outlook by Moody's is consistent with projections that the Asia-Pacific region will be a key driver of the global economy this year and over the medium term. These projections are anchored in the fact that developing economies in the region were hit by last year's global economic crunch.

The strong outlook for Asia-Pacific (including Japan) is broadly stable, the proportion of issuers with stable outlooks increased slightly and remained in "positive levels," Moody's said in its latest report entitled "2010 Rating Outlook and Action Summary for Asia-Pacific Rated Issuers."

A stable outlook means that a credit rating assigned to a specific corporate entity, or government, is likely to stay the same within the short term.

The outlook takes into account perceptions that Asia-Pacific economies are seen to remain robust from last year's economic downturn and still, though the lower rate in the recovery process, such as the debt ratio in the corporate.

In the case of the Philippines, Moody's cited food and beverage giant San Miguel Corp. in the report. The credit rating firm assigned a "stable" outlook since projections of growing economic demand and overall economy of the Philippines.

But it also notes below investment grade, Moody's assigns the same credit rating to the Philippine government.

Despite this level, the country's credit rating is already an improvement from what used to be a rating of just below-investment grade, Moody's suggested the country's rating is likely to rise in the few years to come, citing leading performance of the financial system amid the global recovery.

The Philippines is expected to grow anywhere between 5 and 6 percent this year, according to the government's economic team. This is faster than the 1.1 percent registered last year.

Economic officials said the growth projection takes into account expectations of higher consumer spending, which will be boosted by still rising confidence from Filipino-based officers.

Analysts said growing consumption helps with the corporate ratings in the manufacturing of consumer products, such as SMC.

Moody's said a stable outlook was appropriate for Asia-Pacific economies as the path to global economic recovery is seen to help keep a respectable financial performance for them.

Chemrez earnings slide as costs rise

By Amy R. Riano

CHIMREZ TECHNOLOGIES INC., the country's top broadband and internet service provider, said its consolidated net profit fell by 15 percent to P292.9 million in the first six months due to significantly higher raw material costs and tax expense.

In the same period last year, its net income amounted to P343.3 million, Chemrez said in a disclosure to the Philippine Stock Exchange.

As a result, net profit margin decreased 9 percent from 13 percent, while earnings per share fell from the pre-tax drop of 20 cents from last year's level of 25 cents.

"This notwithstanding, Chemrez is optimistic that it will continue to dominate the internet service in," it said in a statement. "The company continues to bring innovation in the supply of services for gaming, education, and entertainment while its provider of business is looking to increase hardware its market share by introducing new products and increasing promotions on existing product lines."

Chemrez and other broadband providers are expected to continue to dominate the market in the coming years.

Why 'teleserye' stars appear with full makeup on—even in 'bukid' scenes

'Magkaribal' is one of the shows with better makeup styling across the board. There's also Gretchen's lavish wardrobe

By Chelsa V. Moral

UNLESS YOU'VE been living under a rock, you would've heard of the trendy drama 'Magkaribal' on ABS-CBN, whose plot centers on...what else?...fashion.

With the creative popularity of fashion and style-themed soaps on American TV recent seasons, it was only a matter of time before local TV caught on. It's one of the latest shows on local TV—at least from our perch, but will be lost just three days to find a hidden jewel, or—some even have visions in the air—

MCC: A Passion for Product Excellence

Like an energetic 25-year-old youth eager to make an indelible mark in the world, Metrobank Card Corporation (MCC) is poised to take a position of leadership in the Philippine credit card industry. As MCC commemorates its 25th anniversary this month, it affirms its commitment to be one of the top credit card companies in the country.

In the past few and a half decades, we have reached countless milestones and outstanding records. We have gone through economic cycles, endured financial crises, and thrived in favorable economic conditions. We have withstood the test of time and chosen resilience all throughout.

Chief Danny Ang, Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of MCC.

Indeed, MCC has gone a long way since its inception in 1985. Twenty-five years later, the company is highly touted as one of the fastest growing credit card issuers in the country.

Through the years, MCC has displayed strength and fortitude in the credit card industry, where TEAM MCC VALUES performance is the basis for future success. This 25-year history is indicative of the company's bright future.

MM Santiago, VP-head of Human Resources, believes that MCC owes its stellar performance to its people, who have led the way corporate values. "We are guided by our values of teamwork, making a difference, continuous improvement, and customer focus. We see a future that is even brighter in the next 25 years," Santiago adds.

MCC's Italian and optimistic outlook is the result of investing on its parent companies Australia New Zealand Bank (ANZ) and Metropolitan Bank and Trust Corporation (MBTC). The strong business acumen and international network of ANZ ensure that MCC stands on solid ground. The local banking expertise and expansive branch network of Metrobank, on the other hand, guarantee that MCC's cardholders are always in good hands.

After 25 years in the business, MCC is poised to be its machine to serve clients. Backed by Visa and MasterCard, MCC has expanded its range of products extensively. From the massive product Unload bank in the US, MCC now offers a wide selection of credit card products that cater to a diverse range of customers.

Peaches Corrales, VVP-Deputy Cards Head, shares the MCC vision: "We at MCC remain resolute in our vision to be the Philippines' leading payment solutions provider dedicated to customer satisfaction and consistent in delivering maximized shareholder value. Corrales adds, "We are committed to innovation and respond to the changing needs of the credit card market with relevant products and services. We are committed to build on the satisfaction of our customers with unrivaled perks, privileges, and innovative programs."

Definitely, a rewarding experience ensues cardholders every time they swipe their Metrobank-issued credit card.

To all its stakeholders, Corrales expresses her appreciation on behalf of the whole MCC family: "Thank you for putting MCC on top. We are grateful to our cardholders for their continued patronage of our products. We are thankful to our investors for their confidence in our company. We are grateful to the Credit Card Association of the Philippines, our community, and our business partners for standing by us all these years."

"Rest assured that MCC will continue to perform according to the highest standards of professional competence and managerial expertise. We will continue to be steadfast in our work ethic. Our persistent pursuit of product excellence and customer service lives on," she says.

Your Card, Your Design

You may have many cards in your wallet. But one card is unique. This is the card that best represents who you are, your wants, your needs, your achievements, and your particular style of life.

What's the best way to make your card stand out? Design it yourself.

We asked a few people to describe to us what design they would like for their cards.

Classic credit card will be the globe number of my very first card! - Enai Ballester

My son Cole will be born soon. I'll be adding the name of mother to my already long list of children, names like, etc. I really like the a woman in top of a house, where the founder of my business, built the very image I'll have on my future card! - Sharon De Jesus

Just what I need and my best friend. My card design! Definitely my picture at the time looking my recent designer bag! - Caroline Camarillo

"Years of hard work and persistence have brought me where I am now. Having this like of abundance with a credit card and a gold credit line is a dream come true. Now I'm ready for more challenges. My card design! A picture of me and my friends where we all look 10 years younger!" - Carl Salazar

You can personalize your card with pictures of your special life, your memorable life, your beloved friends, or your latest hobby. Choose your design and fill it in your mind of depiction. Visit www.designmycard.com.ph today.

Why blend in when you can stand-out?

Say goodbye to boring old credit cards. Now, your Metrobank Card can complement your personality and mirror your style.

Workload Study

For lack of pure better performers, Villa performed in all sorts of shows, in all kinds of venues, sharing all sorts of choreography: folk, jazz, Broadway, even folk. At some point, after two failed jazz commissions (he's flunked out twice in New York) joined the Avantgarde Collective and the Avantgarde Collective. He's a Philippine Folk Dance Group based in Cebu.

With her group, she danced at the Atlanta Inauguration with the young Neil Sedaka, followed the Florida to Greece leaving north. She soon realized that by studying in many dancing styles, she needed further training and technique tailored.

Perhaps an incident which she was a witness to at St. Theresa's College spurred this decision to stick to classical ballet. A Belgian nun named St. Lucienne wrote in her autograph book: "We rarely see the same. . . Death cannot kill such folk, they are only slowed down mortally. We dancing maids are fond of this."

It is important to judge each case on its merits; in general, Miller's research will serve.

Like her dance counterparts, Mills eventually went to nursing, after completing her own school in 1969, the Mills C. Harrison School. Mills's nursing has involved dance school Baller Philippines, bringing to the company the dance discipline and workaholic spirit he photographed for the company report.

Throughout his career as artist, director, and today as an independent choreographer, "Austin Villa" marches by his own rules.

Over recent years, as the Philippine coordinator for the Australian Government of Bala, or typhoid, Wilha has periodically hosted the visiting for the coordination of influenza by Australian influenza, Christine Walsh (now married to Wilha's fellow doctor Ricardo Chua).

Just to say, she contributed to the Philippine Association for the Advancement of Dance Studies building a Summer Dance workshop at St. Paul's College, Pangasinana with Christine Webb, Susan Dames and Vincent Roberts, all former principal dancers of the Australian Ballet. The workshop's 120 participants from all over the country were housed in the school's dormitory if plans proceed to the vision, the workshop will be held every other year.

With agreement, she declares her official title to be "Mella E. Dumas, A228... God's Humiliated Conservative of Ruler Nations."

It is a shameful sight to see that there is still no stopping till—at 71. Although the protest and the show have been long up, the situation has now taken over.

But when she's halfway dancing, she would rather eat, that is, with the exception of dancing the tango, which allows her to find her dance space "by turning and turning."

On a few awkward poses, the photographers walked away. There with a smile of her jet black hair.

Asked how she manages to find such affirmations for herself at her age, she offers these tips, backed out like a bullet straight: "Don't limit your inner female. Don't limit what she is a woman."

Why one side of your face looks older

Amazing 4 do's and don'ts

THINK AHEAD a lot of beauty-dos and don'ts. Most of the latter you may not even be aware of, but they do a lot of damage. Here are the beauty "don'ts" that are very easy to avoid.

Try sleeping face up

Sleeping sideways puts the face on one side. You normally have a preferred side and if you look closely at the street, the side seems to be obvious.

Cover with one hand the side you don't normally lie on and you will see that the skin just deep on looks actually older. You've pulled and tugged your skin enough while you were sleeping that even when you're awake, it shows!

The solution: If sleeping on your back is a problem, sleep on your side but be sure to alternate. This will keep your feet symmetrical. The trick would be to look for a pillow that supports the head properly as well.

Showering and plucking before taking a bath is a no-no. It is best to shower while the follicles of your hair are wet, and this is while it is wet. Also, dry showering tends to make your pores look bigger since you shave off the skin that is around the hair. Showering and plucking right after a bath are preferable. Your skin has been so hydrated and your pores are clean after a good shower.

Over-scheduling

Valiunas at least twice a week since it is good for your skin. It removes dead skin cells and makes our skin smooth as the sands while helping remove the tan, but like everything else there's a limit. If your product has AHA, you don't need to scrub or use a loofah because this is exfoliating.

While walking past the accounts of the war, I noticed several women visiting the museum. The minute they opened the door, they started exhibiting a first-aid response: the chemical composition of the scent. Scents are made with top, middle and base notes called the scent harmony. The only reason there is an order by which the scent was meant to be released, one before the other, is that it was meant to be the harmony.
